OUR 2010 OPERA IOWA SPONSORS

THE BRIGHT FOUNDATION

PIONEER
A DUPONT COMPANY

Dear OPERA Iowa Host:

Des Moines Metro Opera is pleased to present a world premiere opera designed specifically for the children of Iowa. In conjunction with the Iowa Department of Cultural Affairs and the State Historical Society of Iowa, OPERA Iowa will present an opera focusing on the life of an Iowan who is important to state and national history. A Dream Fulfilled: The Saga of George Washington Carver by Michael Patterson will feature beautiful music, scenery and costumes, combined with the accompanying classroom workshops to make your OPERA Iowa residency a day to remember for your students. Your contract is enclosed. We ask that you sign it and return one complete copy with the requested deposit by the date shown.

To arrange your day with OPERA Iowa, you will need to:

1. Read the enclosed materials carefully and respond with the appropriate information as soon as possible.
2. Read the information about the workshops for 2010. You may choose one to three pre-determined workshops for OPERA Iowa to present to the small groups you select. There is an introduction immediately preceding the show in which ALL the students will participate. (See the schedule on page 3 for clarification.) Note any special needs for each workshop. Decide workshop locations, the number and the grade level of the students who will participate.
3. Use this information to fill out and return the enclosed School Information Sheet (page 2). This sheet should be returned within 14 days of receiving the contract. Make a copy for yourself before you return it to us. Your OPERA Iowa teaching materials will be sent once we have this information.
4. If you haven't already booked an evening concert along with your school show...consider the idea again! An evening concert will add so much to the OPERA Iowa experience for students and their families.
5. A TEACHERPAC will be sent to you 6-8 weeks prior to your scheduled date. Newspapers will be sent approximately four weeks before OPERA Iowa is scheduled to arrive. If you are one of the early schools on the tour, these materials may arrive closer to your date due to printing constraints. In the TEACHERPAC, you will find information for classroom activities that will reinforce George Washington Carver's scientific and artistic legacy.

This is a great deal of information, but if you keep this letter and refer to it as the time approaches you will find that it answers most, if not all, of your questions. If you find you need any assistance, please feel free to give me a call at (515) 961-6221.

What an exciting time this will be for your school and OPERA Iowa, and it will be here before you know it!

Sincerely,

Michael Egel
Director of Artistic Operations

On the day OPERA Iowa is scheduled to arrive, please have ready:

- A tuned piano for our workshops and performance.
- An On-Site Coordinator (this is probably you) to answer any questions during our visit.
- A minimum of 4 adults capable of lifting at least 50 lbs to help unload, set up, then reload scenery. 5 or 6 responsible high school students are welcome to assist only if an adult is provided for supervision.

Each of the following workshops will be presented for thirty (30) minutes between 8:45-9:15 in the morning or 12:45-1:15 in the afternoon. Below, you will read about the three workshops that will be offered by OPERA Iowa in conjunction with A Dream Fulfilled performances. You may elect to have each of the three workshops presented, but because these workshops happen simultaneously, you must have three (3) separate locations where those workshops can be conducted. At least one space must have a piano, though two would be preferable. OPERA Iowa requests that at least one supervising teacher remain in each room during the workshop. After reviewing this information, please decide which workshop(s) you would like to present, which students will attend each section, and where the workshops will be located. Use the information to fill out the School Information Sheet on page 2.

Let's Make an Opera (For up to 50 students)

This workshop meets NSAE in Music Standard 7: Evaluating music and music performance.

Operatic forms are introduced and terms such as overture, chorus, aria, duet, trio and recitative are discussed. Students will explore the ways in which composers use their music to tell a story and will experience how all of the elements of music and theatre work in cooperation to create the performance we see on stage! Characters, plot lines and conflicts are pulled from the story, then students will create their own resolutions.

OBJECTIVES: To provide a framework of information that will enhance student's understanding and appreciation of A Dream Fulfilled by:

- Exploring musical forms and the composition of an opera.
- Introducing, identifying and evaluating music and its elements.
- Engaging the students in a verbal review of the forms used in the creation of that scene.
- Demonstrating that opera can be a lively and accessible art form.

SPECIAL NEEDS: Piano, room for movement, supervising teacher

Decide, Design, Direct! (For up to 50 students)

This workshop meets NSAE Standard 9: Understanding Music Performance in relation to the other arts, history and culture.

What makes an opera? Areas such as costuming, make-up, set design, properties and casting are explored. In this workshop, students will learn on the job! Opera uses many different elements that, when combined, create the performance you see on the stage. Creating an opera requires making many choices—each choice affects the final production. After the elements of opera are presented, student designers will create the 'look' of an A Dream Fulfilled production all their own!

OBJECTIVES: To show how each element of theatre works together to create a final product by:

- Discussing what thought processes go into each element of production.
- Demonstrating the basic stage materials used.
- Discussing the importance of how costume and makeup transforms an actor into a character.

SPECIAL NEEDS: Blackboard or dry erase markerboard, supervising teacher

Singers and Vocal Styles (For up to 35 students)

This workshop meets NSAE Standard 6: Students should listen to, analyze and describe opera, gospel, rock and jazz music styles.

Name that musical style! Of course the difference between rock and opera is obvious, but why do they sound the way they do? What cultures do they represent? And how do the singers make those particular sounds? This workshop will help students learn to hear and describe the difference between their favorite kinds of music. Join OPERA Iowa singers on a whirlwind tour of styles from jazz to country, to grand opera, to gospel, to rock-n-roll.

OBJECTIVES: To assist students in their abilities to describe, analyze and develop precise thoughts about varying styles of music by:

- Identifying different musical and vocal styles
- Exploring how cultures influence musical and vocal styles
- Developing active listening skills
- Developing analytical skills inspired from what is heard

SPECIAL NEEDS: Piano, outlet for CD Player, blackboard

About the Opera: This one-act opera for children describes the life and times of George Washington Carver in Iowa and his life-long connections to the people with whom he lived, studied and worked. His time in the Hawkeye State helped him develop his methods of teaching and research that propelled him to national prominence, and the personal and professional connections established while in Iowa would help lead him to the halls of Congress and provoke luminaries to visit him in Tuskegee, Alabama.

About the Composer: Composer Michael Patterson has a distinguished 34-year relationship with Des Moines Metro Opera. A Dream Fulfilled: The Saga of George Washington Carver, is the second work by Patterson that has been commissioned for OPERA Iowa. In 2003 and 2004, Patterson's The Tale of Peter Rabbit was seen by thousands of school children in Iowa and surrounding states. Patterson holds degrees from Simpson College and the University of Iowa as well as a Ph.D. in music education from the University of Oklahoma. Dr. Patterson has served as a music educator in Iowa public schools and is currently an associate professor at Simpson College. At Simpson, he teaches music education classes, ear training and sight singing, music survey, symphonic and chamber literature, piano lessons, piano literature and supervises elementary student teachers.

A Dream Fulfilled adds to an impressive catalog of solo song, piano repertory, instrumental pieces and choral works that have received acclaim and generated enthusiasm for performances in festivals, concerts and schools across Iowa and in many other states.

The Barber of Seville

OPERA Iowa is delighted to offer community audiences the opportunity to book Rossini's spectacular comedic opera The Barber of Seville.

Figaro can do anything! He's not only the best barber in Seville, but should you need a leg amputated or a heart mended, he's the man to call. When the wealthy young Count Almaviva comes to town in search of a wife, Figaro knows just how to get the girl—but not without pandemonium breaking loose that disrupts the entire city! Rossini's hilarious comedy returns to the OPERA Iowa repertory for the first time in ten years to delight and dazzle audiences of all ages. Sung in English, we are proud to present the most famous of operatic comedies for evening concerts throughout the state of Iowa and beyond.

Since its inception, OPERA Iowa has presented these operas:

*Rumpelstiltskin • The Elixir of Love • Sid the Serpent Who Wanted to Sing • Beauty and the Beast
Chanticleer • Don Pasquale • The Billy Goats Gruff • Il Campanello • Little Red Riding Hood
Monkey See Monkey Do • *Harmoonia • The Telephone • La Canterina • Hansel and Gretel
